* Benefits

For this recipe we turned to blending minimally processed chicken with our pasture-raised pork. For its flavor we included the essential distinctive taste of the Buffalo chicken wing by incorporating black pepper and a wing sauce made up of vinegar, cayenne, salt, water, oil, paprika, and garlic. Its subtle heat, mingled with the attributes of a classic hot dog, result in a unique yet familiar flavor.

Ingredients

Chicken, pork, water, hot sauce (aged cayenne red peppers, distilled vinegar, water, salt, garlic powder), sea salt, citrus extract, black pepper, cayenne pepper, celery powder, cherry powder, in sheep casing.

Serving Suggestions

We like to top these dogs with the accoutrements of Buffalo wings. Some blue cheese or ranch dressing. Some drizzled hot sauce and don't forget the diced celery or carrots. Delicious combo of flavors for this hot dog.

Prep & Cooking Suggestions

The hot dogs can be heated in a number of ways including grilled, boiled, pan seared and even microwaved. Our favorite way is a technique we coined "hydrotoasting" where the hot dogs starts off in a hot pan with a few teaspoons of water in it. Get the dogs simmering in that water until they're heated through. Once the water has evaporated, give them a little color and they're ready to go.
