

Rio Briati
45731 - String Cheese

String cheese is made from mozzarella and is not only tasty but fun to eat as well. Kids and adults alike delight at peeling apart the strings of cheese. Pack it in your lunch or as a snack for a wholesome treat!

* Benefits

You might be surprised to learn that the cheese making process is the key factor in the creation of your favorite stringy cheese. The stringiness of string cheese is naturally created by mozzarella cheese being stretched and pulled while simultaneously being heated to 140 degrees. At this temperature, the milk proteins begin to move and change, aligning horizontally. This alignment allows the milk proteins to become stretchy. The result is the mild stringy snack that we all have grown to love.
