* Benefits

Traditional Korean kimchi- version one is made with napa cabbage and version two is made with daikon radish. Both are fermented along with Korean red pepper flake, green onions, apples, garlic, ginger, and onions. Fermented foods have a dynamic flavor profile: our fresh kimchi's spice and strong vegetal notes mellow out and make way for richer and more vinegary flavors over time. Our product is raw fermented, meaning it is rich in all of the nutrients raw vegetables provide as well as the presence of probiotics from the fermentation process. Both types of kimchi are wonderful atop fried rice, ramen, or even a cream cheese bagel.

Ingredients

Daikon radish, dried red pepper flakes, salt, garlic, apples, onions, green onions, ginger, sugar, sweet rice flour, Korean malt syrup
